

Dr. Christian Marcolli

Dr. Christian Marcolli is the founder and CEO of Marcolli Sport Psychology. Since 1997, he has been working as an international sought-after sport and performance psychologist, collaborating with elite athletes and teams, some of them amongst the best in the world.

His own experience as a professional athlete (Soccer, FC Basel and the Swiss "Under 21" National Team) combined with his wide knowledge of the essential factors of high performance make him a unique partner to build and consolidate excellence in sports performance.

Athletes appreciate Christian's own background, his closeness to elite sports and his engaging personality not only in personal meetings. Many of them use his expertise on-site during important competitions, such as Olympic Games, World Championships or international contests.

Christian Marcolli studied General Psychology, Clinical Psychology and Pedagogy at the University of Basel. In 2001, he gained his doctorate in Applied Psychology at the University of Zurich. In 2000, he was awarded the title of 'International Certified Mental Training Consultant' by the 'International Society for Mental Training and Excellence' and the 'International Coaching School of Canada'.

He completed his training in Sport Psychology in 1996 at the University of Ottawa, Canada. Marcolli has extensive and comprehensive expertise in systemic coaching. In 2003, he gained the UEFA-A trainer's license. In 2009, as one of the first Swiss Sport Psychologists ever, Christian Marcolli was awarded the title of "Expert in Sport Psychology" by the Association of Swiss Psychologists.

Christian Marcolli lives in Switzerland. Although his mother tongue is German, he also speaks English, French and Italian and is able to design and conduct the various programs in English and German.
